CAR

Torino and the major motorways of the rest of Italy are strictly linked, thanks to tunnels and mountain passes which allow to reach France and Switzerland.

For those who come from the North-East of Italy (Lombardia, Veneto, Trentino Alto Adige, Friuli Venezia Giulia) and abroad, the main motorways to take are: the A4 Torino – Trieste and the A21 Torino – Brescia.

For those who come from Liguria or South of France, the recommended motorways is the A6 Torino – Savona.

Links between regions of the Centre and the South of Italy are guaranteed by motorways which through the East and the West coast of the peninsula and the centre:

A21 Torino – Piacenza, A1 Piacenza – Bologna, A14 Bologna – Taranto (crossed regions: Lombardia, Emilia Romagna, Marche, Abruzzo, Molise and Puglia);

A6 Torino – Savona, A10 Savona – Genova, A12 Genova – Rosignano and Civitavecchia – Roma, or A21 Torino – Alessandria, A26 Alessandria – Genova (crossed regions: Liguria, Toscana, Lazio); A21 Torino – Piacenza and A1 Piacenza – Napoli (crossed regions: Lombardia, Emilia Romagna, Toscana, Umbria, Lazio, Campania).

For those come from France and Switzerland, tunnels and motorways to take are respectively:

A32 Torino – Bardonecchia, passing through the Frejus tunnel (you arrive in France, Chambéry direction);

A5 Torino – Aosta passing trough the Mont Blanc tunnel (after having crossed the tunnel, you arrive in France, you have to going on to Switzerland and finally you arrive in Geneva) or the A5 Torino – Aosta and the Strada Statale 27 passing through the Gran San Bernardo tunnel (you directly reach Switzerland, Losanna direction).

RAILWAY

Torino is connected to the main italian and foreign railways stations and it is an important link between France and Switzerland through the railways tunnels.

The main Torino railway stations are:

- Porta Nuova
